Less than half an hour over the Severn Bridge lies one of the most popular and most photographed mountain bike locations in Wales – Cwmcarn. The Twrch trail is a long-standing MBUK favourite and offers the perfect terrain to give even the most new-school of trail bikes a damn good thumping. The long climb to the top is rewarded by a freeride 'play' area (all do-able on cross country bikes) and one of the most grin-inducing descents in Britain. The Y Mynydd downhill track caters for the gravity set and although not an extremely technical run, it's long and fast. Cwmdown offer a superb uplift service nearly every day of the week too. Nearby PS Cycles stock everything from exotica to 'get me home' fixes, along with one of the best maintained rental fleets out there.

The Wrecking Crew say

"A great location with downhill uplift service and a national level track, as well as an excellent cross country track." Doddy
